

Dear sustainability enthusiasts and climate protection fans,

Welcome to the 8th issue of the newsletter that we publish as part of the climate protection project. Here we report at more or less regular intervals on the progress of the project and on news from the sustainability cosmos of the university. Please feel free to recommend it to others.

If you are a recent newcomer here (yay!) you can check out the back issues on the website.

21.09.22

Next Wednesday, we will briefly present the interim results from our workshop phase during the university public session of the Senate meeting. The agenda point is scheduled for about 9:45 am. Anyone who would like to is of course welcome to join us. The link can be found in the university public meeting documents here.

325 supporters

Last week we (again) invited people to participate - if they haven't already done so - in the self-commitment to abstain from short-haul flights. Within 24 hours, the number of signatories has doubled and we have already clearly cracked the 300 mark. Those who want to take a stand, but do not want to give their name, can also participate anonymously. Either way, we look forward to seeing the list grow even longer. You can sign here.

17,834 kilometers

...have already been collected by the team members of the University of Oldenburg at the Stadtradeln. This puts us in first place in Oldenburg! The campaign runs until September 24, and it is still possible to join until the last day, and kilometers can also be added later. The rules of the campaign can be found here and if you would like to support us in our goal of reaching 30,000 km by the end of the campaign, you are welcome to join our team.

3 1/2 episodes

In a course on climate communication, a group of students quickly created their own podcast. "Um Kopf und Kragen" is about what went wrong in climate communication in the past, what role the media and politics play in it and what mistakes science has made. The result is 1 trailer, 3 episodes and a podcast that can compete with the big ones. Listen to it and recommend it immediately. You can do that via Spotify and Apple Podcasts (and hopefully soon on the university's website). Unfortunately, the podcast is only available in German.

15 minutes and 36 seconds

... I talked with Lina and Marie from Werkstatt Zukunft about my work as climate protection manager at the university. For the upcoming autumn blues, you can also just turn off the sound and enjoy the great footage from the campus garden. You can find the video here.

We continue to welcome your suggestions and requests - feel free to write!

It would be great if you forward this newsletter to your colleagues or recommend them to sign up.

Thank you for your support of the project, we can't do without it.

Best regards,

Anna Krämer [sie/ihr]
